Team Builders Plus
One Organization. *One*Team.

For Immediate Release

Team Builders Plus Sponsors Miles Award 2006

MOORESTOWN, NJ (February 23, 2006) -- Team Builders Plus of Cherry Hill, NJ, a full-service consulting firm that conducts individual, team and organizational assessments, coaching and leadership training for organizations worldwide, has joined the sponsor community for the Miles Young Entrepreneur of Southern New Jersey Award 2006. Approximately 20 percent of Fortune 100 companies are clients of Team Builders Plus, including Campbell's Soup, GlaxoSmithKline, L'Oreal, the U.S. Marines, and Ford Motor Company.

The Miles Award 2006 presentation event is scheduled for Friday, May 19, 2006 at The Enterprise Center, Mount Laurel, Burlington County, New Jersey. The event will recognize the Young Entrepreneur of Southern New Jersey 2006. The event is acknowledged by the Entrepreneurs Forum of Southern New Jersey and Rowan University, both of which are involved in the selection process for the Miles Award.

"On behalf of the Miles Award 2006 endeavor, Miles Technologies and the Entrepreneurs Forum of Southern New Jersey, it's with great appreciation that we welcome Team Builders Plus to the sponsor community," reports Chris Miles, founder and president of Miles Technologies. "On a personal note, I extend deep and sincere thanks to all Miles Award 2006 sponsors for their recognition of this great effort to bring attention to the leading young entrepreneurs of Southern New Jersey.

This year marks the second year the Miles Award will be presented to a leading young entrepreneur in Southern New Jersey.

About Team Builders Plus

Team Builders Plus was founded in 1991 to help develop the skills needed to ensure long-lasting personal, professional, and organizational success. Our experienced staff helps identify client needs through individual, team, and organizational assessment. We link development experiences to real-world business issues through one-on-one performance coaching and training programs.

The company's team building programs range from fun team retreats to intensive team interventions and everything in between. Our leadership development programs target basic supervisory skills, as well as the higher-level competencies needed by senior executives. Programs are fun, memorable, and create lasting results. By integrating training sessions with one-on-one coaching, individuals achieve maximum results.

Team Builders Plus assessment services help individuals, teams and organizations to gain a clear perspective of their strengths and challenges. Our online survey system is state-of-the-art. And our survey design experts turn 360-degree feedback processes, team evaluation, and organizational climate surveys into the foundation for success.

About Miles Technologies

Headquartered in Moorestown, New Jersey, Miles Technologies' Information Technology & Computer Consulting division provides Installation and support of networks, servers, and workstations. The company provides onsite and remote support, and custom builds servers and workstations to any specifications.

Miles Technologies' Application Development division provides ground-breaking custom software solutions for all company procedures, including Contact Management & Customer Relationship Management (CRM), Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP), project management and task control, automated marketing systems, accounting integration, Sales and Accounting Reporting and more. The company's Website Design Division can create or upgrade any Graphical Website, with a portfolio that includes some of the webs most creatively advanced graphical websites created for business.

Miles Technologies also offers Accounting Software Consulting Services where certified consultants help businesses select the software package best suited for their needs, assist in setting up and configuring the company file, provide remote and onsite training and consultation services tailored to the needs of each individual business as well as design customized integration plans with existing off-the-shelf or custom software packages. For more information, visit Miles Technologies website at http://www.milestechnologies.com.

About the Entrepreneurs Forum of Southern New Jersey

The South Jersey region is also home to three new technology centers, housing numerous start-up ventures. Growing entrepreneurial programs at local universities are creating an additional need in the region for mentoring programs, internship opportunities and field experiences to create the type of innovative entrepreneurial talent needed to fuel the growth of technology and businesses in the region.

EFSNJ seeks to coordinate existing resources, through the development of linkages, working relationships and strategic partnerships, and augment them where necessary, to develop an efficient, user-friendly infrastructure of support resources and programs aimed at entrepreneurs and emerging growth companies. For more information, visit EFSNJ at http://www.efsnj.org.